THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION

- 25X1 1. On 5 March 1951, [] nine men who occupied the Soviet 25X1 radio installation southeast of Goshren (N 55/P 95) were relieved. The soldiers 25X1 were red-bordered black epaulets. (1) On 7 March, passenger car [] was 25X1 parked in front of an inn in Goshren. A Soviet lieutenant was quartered in this 25X1 inn. The radio installation was evacuated on 25 April. [] 25X1 the personnel had left some days ago. The telephone line leading to Goshren was 25X1 removed. On 28 May, the installation was still unoccupied and the door of the temporary building was closed.
- 25X1 2. On 11 and 17 May, no Soviet detail was seen near Goshren. On 3 June, a van-like 25X1 truck with a seven-section antenna and two soldiers wearing black epaulets were 25X1 seen on a hill southeast of Goshren. (2) An auxiliary two-wire line led from the truck toward Goshren where it was connected with the local wire net.
- 25X1 3. On 4 and 17 May and 2 June, it was observed that the radar set with ears, located southwest of Binz, was rotating. (3) On 17 May, four soldiers wearing naval uniforms were seen in the vicinity of the set.
- 25X1 4. The radar set near the Bug forester's house was evacuated on 17 May. (4)

Comments:

- 25X1 (1) [redacted] indicated that the installation was a RUS-2 radar set. [redacted]
- 25X1 [redacted] the radio installation does not belong to an air force unit but probably to a naval unit.
- (2) According to a rough sketch [redacted] the installation observed was a RUS-2 radar set mounted on a truck.
- (3) The radar set of Dumbo type is located on the Fahrenberg (hill) southwest of Binz.
- (4) A RUS-2 radar set was located near the Dug forester's house.
